Former Israeli PM Ariel Sharon dead

Jerusalem

Former Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon died on Saturday at a hospital near Tel Aviv after being in a coma for the past eight years following a stroke. He was 85.

Sharon's 11th premier passed away at the Sheba Medical Center at Tel Aviv after being in a coma for the past eight years following a stroke. He was 85.

Sharon's condition would not have lasted as long as he did. Sharon was revered by many in his country as "Mr. Security" for his contributions in all the major wars since Israel's independence. He was revered in equal measure in the Arab world as the "butcher of Sabra and Shatila".

While serving as defence minister in 1982, he masterminded Israel's invasion of Lebanon. During the invasion, Lebanese Christian militiamen allied to Israel massacred hundreds of Palestinians in two Beirut refugee camps - Sabra and Shatila - under Israeli control. He was nevertheless elected prime minister 19 years later, pledging to achieve "security and true peace", and served until his second stroke.

Karachi suicide bomber was imam's son

Karachi

A suicide bomber who killed Chaudhry Aslam, one of Pakistan's most daring counter-terror officials, has been identified as the son of an imam, a media report said on Saturday.

According to initial investigations and evidence, police in Karachi believe that young Naeemullah, who was identified through fingerprints, carried out the deadly attack on Thursday, SP Niaz Khosa said.

Naeemullah was a semi-student and son of Rafiullah, the imam of Masjid Jamia Siddiqia and administrator of a madrassa in Karachi's restive Orangi Town, The Express Tribune reported.

Rafiullah and around half a dozen family members and comrades have been detained by the CID. Some body parts found at the site, allegedly of the bomber, were sent to the National Database and Registration Authority for identification.

"(We are) 99 per cent sure that a suicide bomber hit the explosives-laden Suzuki cargo van with Aslam's (car)," Crime Investigation Department (CID) chief Zafar Bukhari said.

However, police officials insist that the investigation is only in its initial stages and things could change.

According to police officials, Rafiullah and Naeemullah are reportedly members of Zikria Mehsood group, the Tehrik-e-Taliban Pakistan's Karachi chapter. Police raided the suspect's house and detained family members in the past.

The blast killed Aslam, who had fearlessly hunted members of the banned group in Karachi despite at least three attacks on him.

A suicide attack on Aslam's home in Karachi in 2011 had killed eight persons though he escaped unhurt. Shortly after Thursday's suicide bombing, Taliban spokesman Sajjad Mohmand told reporters that his group carried out the "successful" attack to avenge the killing of several Taliban fighters by police.

Indian businessman shot in Philippines

Manila

An Indian businessman was shot dead and another wounded in the Philippines by unidentified gunmen as they were collecting payments from clients, a media report said today.

Navjot Singh, 26, was shot twice in the chest and declared dead on arrival at a local hospital. His associate Lekhwinder Singh, 33, was shot in his arm, Vox Bikol newspaper reported.

Both Indian nationals are residents of Naga City. The shooting occurred on January 6, when they had gone to a rural area of Calabanga town to collect loan payments from clients. Police said two unidentified motorcycle-borne gunmen were waiting for the Indians near a store in the area. Officials said no cash was taken from the Indians.

Paramjit Singh, 34, another Indian national who was accompanying the two men who were shot, took the victims to a hospital in Naga City. The Bureau of Immigration in Naga City said it had no records for Navjot Singh, who was described as an "unverified Indian national".

Late last year, the local police director had contacted the Bureau of Immigration to discuss a series of armed robberies in which Indian nationals were the victims. Officials said Indian nationals targeted in several armed robberies and shootings were "uncooperative" with police investigators.

Reports have indicated that Indian nationals "have masterminded armed robberies and shooting of fellow Indians because of reported business rivalries", the report said.

Ukraine ex-minister beaten up in clashes

Kiev

Ukraine's ex-interior minister and current opposition leader Yuriy Lutsenko was under intensive care in hospital Saturday after being beaten in fresh clashes that erupted between pro-EU demonstrators and club-wielding police.

Dozens of nationalist demonstrators protested late Friday outside a Kiev court that had earlier in the day sentenced three men to six years in prison for allegedly plotting to blow up a statue of Soviet founder Lenin near the city's main airport in 2011.

Ukrainian television showed several protesters being carried by stretcher to an ambulance that had been rushed to the scene.

Russian state television said the anti-riot troops moved in after being pelted with rocks by protesters who were trying to block police vans as the three convicts were being led out of the court in order to be placed in jail.

Ukrainian opposition news sites published photographs and video images of Lutsenko with his head bandaged and a large patch over his right eye.

Lutsenko's wife Irina said her husband had suffered a concussion and head injuries after being attacked by club-wielding police while he was trying to break up the unfolding violence.

He has been placed in intensive care. They are going to keep him under observation," she told Ukraine's opposition Hromadske television channel.
